CHAIRMAN'S STATEMENT

DekelOil's achievements and experience gained in 2014 have set the scene for a prosperous 2015. In a short period of time we have built a vertically integrated palm oil production company. We have established an impressive asset base at our first project, Ayenouan, which includes a world class nursery, approximately 1,900 ha of Company estates and one of West Africa's largest CPO extraction mills. The commissioning of the Mill in March 2014 was a key value milestone for DekelOil, and since then our focus operationally has been to implement a range of logistical initiatives which have successfully delivered record production from this project for Q1 2015. With 2015 production already surpassing 2014's at the end of April, we are excited to update shareholders on our progress over the coming months and I am confident that our investment case will be characterised by growth, thanks to our Board and team's focus on optimisation and innovation.

Our corporate achievements have strengthened our position dramatically. Not only do we now have three off-take agreements in place for CPO, thereby diversifying our sales reach, but we also maximise the profits from these sales due to our full exemption from corporation tax for a period of 13 years, which has a positive effect on our financials.

We signed a construction agreement in respect to the commissioning of a kernel crushing plant at Ayenouan. The kernel crushing plant has a very attractive investment return profile and will materially increase profitability at the Ayenouan project. In addition, our 1,900 hectares of planted company-owned land surrounding our first Mill are now producing fresh fruit bunches ("FFB"), which will have a positive impact on our margins. We are also now turning our attention to our second property, Guitry, which covers 24,000 hectares of brownfield land estates. Eventual production here will be derived from company-owned estates.

The palm oil industry has been highly active in terms of corporate activity over recent months, and as an established West African producer with a large and contiguous land package this has positive read across to our value. Global demand for CPO is estimated increase substantially, and with this in mind, four of the world's largest palm oil companies; Wilmar, Sime Darby, KLK and Golden Agri, have entered West Africa. Several noteworthy transactions have been undertaken across the sector in recent months and notably, despite being one of the most advanced junior CPO producers in the region, DekelOil is currently one of the only established palm oil developers not in partnership or subject to takeover by a major Asian palm oil company.

Operations Review

Ayenouan is our primary project in which we have a 51% interest. This project is based around a 60 t/hr Mill which represents one of West Africa's largest and a 1 million plant nursery, which provide high quality plants to our smallholders and our own land. The project operates in tandem with local small holder estates, which currently supply the majority of the raw material for the Mill and we have also planted c. 1,900 ha of company plantations, which are now beginning to yield.

Production

2014 saw us meet our objective to transform DekelOil into a revenue generative, crude palm oil producer when our Mill commenced operations in March. Having hit this momentous milestone, we have been, and continue to be focused on increasing production. Our priority has been to create a seamless logistics solution which simplifies the delivery process of FFB to our Mill from local smallholders. We established an initial logistics hub ahead of first production which accounted for approximately half of the fruit processed during March. Building on its immediate success, we rapidly set up a second and third logistics hub. We also expanded our company-owned truck fleet to 24 from 9 to operate alongside local truck contractors.

Total production for the period 1 March 2014 to 31 December 2014 stood at 14,242 tonnes of crude palm oil and 2,504 tonnes of kernels. CPO was extracted at a rate of 22.7% during the period from 62,662 tonnes of FFB, which compares favourably to other CPO extraction mills. While production for the 9 months of operation was slightly below our anticipations, the measures implemented in 2014 have reaped rewards for us at the beginning of 2015 and I am confident that we are on a path to dramatically lift production in 2015, our first full year of operations.

In 2015, we produced 14,496 tonnes of CPO from January to April, which means we have already surpassed our total production for 2014. This included record monthly production of 4,818 tns of CPO in April. With high season production continuing into June, we are well placed to produce more than 20,000tn for the half year. This excellent result validates the hard work we have put into to our logistics infrastructure and our customer relations activities with the small holders and cooperatives.

Sales

During the period March to December 2014, sales of palm oil stood at 13,900 tonnes at an average price per tonne of €647 (c.US$861). Although the CPO price has weakened slightly as a result of the fall in oil prices, strong local and regional demand has enabled DekelOil to sell its CPO at a premium to CIF Rotterdam CPO prices and we expect this trend to continue. 2,444 tonnes of kernel were sold at €183(US$220) per tonne ex-Mill. The remainder of our revenue was derived from the sale of nursery plants. Our financial results as a result of this can be found below.

Notably, we experienced success in respect to the implementation of our sales strategy to diversify our customer base during the period and signed off-take agreements with three companies for sale locally. While the company also sold to Société d'Investissement pour l'Agriculture Tropicale ('SIAT'), an agro-industrial group of companies, represents the Company's first sales for export.

Expansion

In terms of the new kernel crushing plant at Ayenouan, the contract was awarded to Modipalm Engineering SDN BHD who also constructed our existing 60tn/hr palm oil mill. The new kernel crushing plant is expected to materially increase profitability at the Ayenouan project by allowing both Palm Kernel Oil and animal feed to be sold in the local market at the factory gate. With a low capex requirement of approximately €1.1 million, the plant has highly attractive payback credentials.

The Company is also planning to continue its planting programme at Ayenouan to add to the 1,900 ha of plantations already planted. A further 500 hectares will be planted in the near term close to the Mill. The initial 1,900 ha are beginning to produce FFB and will be delivered to the Mill in addition to the smallholder production. Naturally production from this Company-owned land will be delivered at a higher margin, thereby positively affecting our bottom line going forward. The Company has a medium term objective to plant a further 5,000 hectares in Ayenouan.

Financial

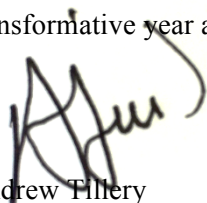

During the period total sales amounted to €9,973 thousands (31 December 2013: €465,000), a net loss after tax of 2,562 thousands (31 December 2014: €1,467 thousands) and EBITDA of €167 thousands.

During the period, we successfully raised a total of £2.2 million. An initial £700,000 was raised to welcome two high profile African focused funds including Nubuke as shareholders, in line with our strategy to increase the institutional representation on our register. The balance was raised to construct the Kernel Crushing Plant.

Outlook

We are proud of our achievements over the year which have seen us transform into a revenue generative and scalable palm oil producer. Our logistics solutions are paying off and we have positioned ourselves ideally for the current peak harvesting season. By this time next year, we will have matured further with more company owned estates planted; our own FFBs contributing to production at Ayenouan and an operational Kernel Crushing Plant which we expect will deliver our first full year profit result. Whilst we have significant organic profit growth to be delivered in the next 1-3 years from our existing operations, we remain focused on expanding our operations into different regions including our 24,000ha land position in Guitry and potentially into Western Ghana. Our vision remains to build one of the largest palm oil companies in West Africa and we believe we have the operational foundations and the proven management team to execute this medium to long term strategy.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank our shareholders for their support and look forward to another transformative year as we focus on solidifying our position in this highly attractive palm oil region.
